Youth Center Making Annual Fund Appeal

With their slogan, "We Need YOU in YOUTH" the Carmel Youth Center opens its annual appeal for funds, for the most vital cause of all, the welfare of our youngsters who will be the men and women of tomorrow.

The Carmel Youth Center, now in its 13th year of ever-growing activity, has a present membership of more than 700 teen agers from the entire Carmel Unified School District.

While there is an adult board guiding and governing the activities, with Mrs. Karen Hicks, who through the past decade has been an officer, as president, the Youth Council Board sits in on all meeting presenting its views and offering its suggestions.

On duty is executive director Jack Giles, assisted by Mrs. Avis Tobiasen, with Bob Updike, the Center's first president, giving much of his time.

It is no news to Carmelites that the Youth Center owes its existence to the generosity of the Bing Crosby and the Lucie Stern Foundations. "But," declares Jack Giles, "our greatest pride is in the fact that the membership, the boys and girls themselves, earn all the funds for the Center's operating expenses. By their own initiative they have helped themselves through special work projects, dues and admission fees. They have, through their fine deportment and service, earned the concession rights for all major events at Pebble Beach, including, of course, the great Crosby tournament. The earnings from these concessions materially aid budget problems of the Center, but addi-

Calling All Cubs

by CAROLYN ELSTOB

With school days just ahead, what are boys 8 to 11 years old thinking about? You can bet all your money in the great Carmel banks, not reading, writing and rithmatic, they're seeing visions, each of himself, the top Scout Cub of his Carmel Den.

There are two rip roaring Cub Packs in Carmel. The All Saints Episcopal Church Pack No. 48 is headed by Dick Duhring, Cub Master. There are five Dens that meet weekly with their Den mothers, Mrs. Willa Hopelain, Mrs. Lydia Criley, Mrs. Martha La Borie, Mrs. Delight Hrusa and Mrs. Raymond Baumann providing the cookies and what-not that every perpetually hungry Cub needs. The big monthly meeting is held in the Parish Hall of All Saints Church. Altho the Pack is sponsored by the church its membership is open to all boys regardless of religious affiliations. Parents may call Dick Duhring at his home, 624-1651 in advance of the first Fall meeting scheduled for Sept. 16.

Pack No. 3, with Pat Dormody as Cub Master, is sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club. The opening Fall meeting to be held at the River School is scheduled for Sept. 26. Den mothers in charge of weekly meetings are, Mrs. Donna De Vincenzi, Mrs. Paula Duerr, Mrs. A. J. Kinion and Mrs. Nick La Sorella. Cub Master Dormody stresses the outdoor activities and the necessity of parents taking active interest in their Cub sons' projects. Parents are invited to call Mr. Dormody at his home, 624-1151.

"Great Sand Castle Contest" Set For Sept. 15, Tides Willing

Last year the PINE CONE was one of the originators of what has become "The Great Sand Castle Contest," an annual affair. Don Brown is committee coordinator of the Sand Committee of S-P-O-F-I-C, the organization into whose capable hands this paper gratefully passes the whole gritty business. Following is a treatise by Mr. Brown on the event.—Ed.

* * * * *

by DONALD R. BROWN

The day of the "Great Sand Castle Contest" is approaching. The sands of the Carmel beach will once again be molded into architectural and artful masterpieces. Such freedom of expression challenges the imagination; no zoning laws, no building codes, no budgets, and mistakes will be washed out with the tide. The possibilities of wet sand are limitless except for a few structural characteristics, such as its lack of strength in bending. Have you ever tried to cantilever sand?

The problem at this time, however, is to get organized, which the Sand Committee of S-P-O-F-I-C promises to do by next week. The tide table, if interpreted properly, dictates that Sept. 15 will be the big day and let's all have good thoughts about the sun shining for the occasion.

Last year the "Great Sand Castle Contest" inspired 45 entries. That first attempt was a great success with a few minor problems, which the Sand Committee hopes to solve for this year's contest.

The main problem was the large quantity of time consumed in judging. As the sun dropped closer to the sea, several adults began to turn blue with the cold and most of the children were dancing with their usual problem. Then there was the tide, which came in during the judging and washed out some excellent entries. The most difficult problem is that of giant dogs bounding through near-complete works of art. Perhaps owners will restrain their beasts this year in the fear that they (either or both) may be considered "uncultured" if associated with the destruction of a masterpiece.

A careful study is also being made of rules and judging procedures. Both must be treated delicately so as to seem fair but still leave plenty of room for error. The total concoction of rules and prize categories will be presented next week if any sort of agreement can be reached by that time.

Feathers... From the Shaft

By Harry the Fletcher

Through most of life's span I have worked, and I plan to cut down the hours of my labor to four days or three, 'cause I'd like to be free to loaf like my indolent neighbor.

I've Saturdays off, then there's Sundays, of course, but Mondays I face with sheer sorrow, which ruins my rest as a week-ending guest, just dreading that pending tomorrow.

I said to the boss, "I'm a dead total loss on Monday, but Tuesday I'm perking; since I only seek to work four days a week, let's cross off the Monday from working."

This generous guy had a ready reply. "Your status I've scheduled and reckoned." He said with a cough, 'You may take the day off on Monday, September the second."

Named To Pine Cone Staff

Mrs. Andre Hope, for personal reasons, resigned as editor of the PINE CONE at the close of last week. Her friends and fans will be pleased to learn, however, that her delightful column will continue to appear in these pages, as will the canine cadences which she ghost-writes for a pair of most mannerly dachshunds. Mrs. Carolyn Elstob has been appointed News Editor of the PINE CONE, while Harry W. Fletcher assumes the post of Arts and Literature Editor. A third appointment, and one which the PINE CONE announces with great pleasure, is that of Lance Stanford to our advertising staff.—Ed.

When Carolyn Elstob took over last Monday as our News Editor it wouldn't be quite accurate to say that she was new to the PINE CONE. The Frederick Elstobs, with their two little daughters, came to Carmel 16 years ago. "We sat on the beach that first day" Carolyn remembered, "and read the PINE CONE. We had come just for the summer—and we've been here ever since. As Admiral C. W. Fisher formed a committee and issued a call for Carmel citizens to "unite without delay for concerted action to preserve the Carmel we all so very much desire. The explosive population in adjacent areas, increased number of automobiles, real estate sub-divisions and business interests which look upon our village primarily as a place to make money" are listed as the forces which threaten the residential nature of the community.

Wind IN THE Pines

BY DON MARSHALL

Tony Cruysen, forestry lookout atop Cone Peak in the Santa Lucias, must be a man who values his solitude, else why would he have selected such an occupation.

You can therefore imagine his emotions when some deejay at KRKC in King City got the bright idea of calling him daily and asking him about news. Every day Tony would tell him about the coastal fog, other weather and fire conditions. But the guy didn't seem too impressed, Tony felt.

But consider poor Tony, a man who is trying to escape the clamor and pace of our society. What anguish he must have known every morning, knowing the phone would shortly ring and that the brash deejay would ask the same, old inane questions, then hang up on learning of nothing more spectacular than a coastal fog.

About two weeks ago Tony could stand it no longer. The phone rang and Tony let him have it. He told the spellbound broadcaster a chilling tale about a half-man, half-ape, standing 75 or 80 feet tall who was ravaging the forest. The beast, Tony said, left footprints three feet long and a foot wide as he crashed through the forest hurling power poles into Devil's Canyon like spears.

As the monster came closer, Cruysen was able to get a good look at it. "It looked like a giant man or an ape, but 15 times bigger than the largest ape I ever saw in a zoo. It had long hair, and horrible fangs and claws instead of toes. It had what looked like the skins of three or four mountain lions tied around its middle." Huddled in the lookout as the monster approached and tapped on the windows, Crysen said glass shattered with each tap. He added that later the thing reached out, grabbed a four point buck and bit it in half.

Later the thing was reported by a tourist on Limekiln Bridge on Highway 1 as coming up under the bridge, then diving into the sea, causing spray to inundate cars along the coast road.

According to my associate at The Rustler in King City, Harry Casey, the radio station really played up the story, complete with all the grisly details. It was only later, apparently, that the radio types realized that it was simply Tony's way of letting them know he didn't want to be molested in his mountain fastness.

I have been unable to learn whether the deejay still calls Tony every dawning, but it's entirely possible he's no longer employed by KRKC.

Festival Theatre Fund Tea Tomorrow

A tea will be held tomorrow afternoon in the home of Mrs. David Henry Gill on Pelican road, Monterey Peninsula Country Club with Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni and Mrs. Frank Drumb, co-hostesses.

"The purpose of the tea is really to talk over plans of ticket promotion for the Victor Borge concert," states Mrs. Leoni, "As sort of publicity-social contacts chairman in behalf of our Festival Theatre Fund the success of the Borge concert is of prime importance, as a large percentage of the ticket sale will go toward our Theatre Fund.

"Whether or not they have been contacted by Mrs. Gill or me, everyone interested in the future of Festival Theatre is invited to come along tomorrow afternoon, from 2:30 o'clock onward."

School Board Meet Holds Few Surprises

The Board of Education of the Carmel Unified School District presented few surprises to the public in its meeting last night.

Lengthy discussion was held concerning the setting of minimum requirements for graduation from Carmel High. Board member Dr. Richard Snyder objected to requiring a year of fine or applied arts, and this was met by an amendment allowing a student to take such a course during the ninth grade. Other requirements are three years of English, a year each of civics and U.S. history, three years of physical education, half a year of driver education and a year of science, mathematics and world history, if the student hasn't taken the three latter in his ninth year. The matter was passed as amended, but over the objections of board member Mrs. Roxana Blanks, who disliked the amendment.

On the advice of County Counsel William H. Stoffers, the board rejected a claim made on behalf of Tania Williams. A requested change in the bus schedule was noted, but no action was taken, since the schedules have already been set. Bids were accepted for a fire alarm and sprinkler system at Sunset School and for sidewalks at the junior high school.

The board also:

Dell Redding Wins Fresno Bride

Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Fresno was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Merrell of Fresno and Dell Redding, son of the Wendell C. Reddings of Carmel. The Rev. O. R. Graumann officiated at the double ring ceremony which was performed Saturday, Aug. 10.

The bride was lovely in a gown of silk organza and alencon lace. The circlet neckline was edged with lace and the sleeves were wrist length. The bell-shaped skirt had a natural waistline and was accented with garlands of lace which gave a pannier effect. The long skirt ended in a tan pleate.. train.

The bridal veil was of rosepoint Brussels lace held in place by a pearl crown, both of which had been worn by Mrs. John L. Van Dien, sister of the bridegroom, at her wedding in The Hague Holland, in April, 1960.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Alwin Merrell of Lancaster.

Mrs. Olin Mitchell of Albuquerque, N. M. was the matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned of blue chiffon over taffeta, gathered at the waist with a bow at the front. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Her headpiece was a blue bow with a short veil. The bridesmaids were Miss Kay Stimel of Fresno, Mrs. Charles Brusco of San Mateo and Miss Paula Hougard of Selma. They wore gowns of blue chiffon and carried shower bouquets of pink carnations.

Ronald B. Dibble of Los Angeles was the best man and the ushers were Don Merrell, brother of the bride, Richard Kuckenbecker and Richard Schetter.

Mrs. Alwin Merrell, mother of the bride, attended in a dress of aqua flocked chiffon with matching accessories. Mrs. Wendell C. Redding, the bridegroom's mother, chose a pink Italian silk sheath with bodice of appliqued silk on organza, with matching hat and shoes. Both added corsages of white roses.

The garden patio of the church was the setting for the reception following the ceremony, which was floodlighted for the occasion.

Following a two weeks wedding trip to the Hawaiian Islands, the newlyweds will be at home at 351 N. 26th Street, San Jose. Dell will complete his final semester's work on a Master of Science degree in Biology and plans to enter a teaching career. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Redding of Carmel, he was graduated from the Carmel High School '54 and Fresno State College.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Merrell of Lancaster. She is a graduate of Selma Union High School and Fresno State College.

A special guest adding gaiety to the wedding party was the groom's sister, Mrs. John Van Dien, the former Diane Redding, who flew from Geneva, Switzerland, with her small daughter Laura. Diane has been visiting her parents for the past month and was joined by her husband two weeks ago. They will leave for Manila next week where Mr. Wendell will take up his duties as comptroller of Chrysler, International.

Dell Redding of Carmel claims Miss Barbara Merrill as his bride in Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Fresno.

● Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tanous (Joe is Leo's younger brother) bought a house here last spring to live happily ever after, but their scholastic ambitions have over-ruled and they are leaving this weekend for the University of California at Davis where Joe will work for his master's degree in art and Louise will major in anthropology with a view to winning her teaching credentials. In one short summer they've become true-blue Carmelites and stopped in the Pine Cone office yesterday to place a year's subscription.

Pre-Nuptial Gaiety for Randi and Eddie

With their wedding two days away, Randi Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Court Randolph of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and Edward Wilson, son of the Elwood Wilsons of Carmel are rushing from one gay party to another.

A bride's shower was given for Randi last evening by Miss Elizabeth Magoon of San Jose with Mrs. Elwood Wilson acting as cohostess in the Wilson's home. Miss Magoon will be one of Randi's bridesmaids on Saturday.

The John G. Julians of Pebble Beach will entertain the wedding party at a cocktail party this afternoon.

In addition to Miss Magoon the bride will be preceded up the aisle on Saturday by her sister, Miss Kay Wilson as maid of honor and Miss Kim Lewis of Los Angeles as her second bridesmaid.

For his best man Edward has chosen Ronie Faia of Carmel. Ushers will be Don Lautenschlager, Harrison Hilbert, Lane Chrisman(and Mike Carter.

Following the two o'clock ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church the wedding reception will be held in the Randolph home.

● Carmel was represented at the first International Explorers Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, by Tim Taffee, son of the Arthur W. Taffees and Stephen Keith Canepa, son of the Stephen Canepas. Both boys are juniors at Carmel High School. More than 3500 boys of high school age attended the 5-day conference which ended yesterday.

PAWS FOR COMMENT

AS TOLD TO ANDRE HOPE

Today is the anniversary of the demise of our friend Sherman, the turtle. In spite of the name Sherman was a lady and a rather well known Carmel inhabitant. For some time she reigned as the mascot of the Carmel branch of the International Turtle-herders Association. This is a group which stands squarely in the path of progress and is dedicated to moving no faster than a herd of turtles. Sherman, whom we believe was actually a tortoise, was given a very fine mock turtle funeral on the beach where the river meets the sea. Quotations from "Alice in Wonderland" were appropriately read and after the funeral pyre was ignited, a small Japanese turtle named Phoenix arose from the ashes as turtle soup and sherry were served to the gathering crowd. We might add that Sherman had already been buried elsewhere under a geranium bush. She was very fond of geraniums—for breakfast. If anyone knows where we might contact another turtle (tortoise?) to take over the job, who would like the climate of Carmel, please tell us about it. We hasten to add that he or she will receive an excellent home, an exalted position and—oh, yes—Sherman died from a severe case of antiquity. There was this one time when someone, a bit muffed at her indiscretion on the living room rug, did try to spank her. Ever hear of anything so silly? Come to think of it, where could we buy some shells?

We spoke to Mr. and Mrs. George Leland at the Carmel pet shop, he is the new head of the S.P.C.A., and they promised to let us know what is going on at the shelter. We bought our identification tags and medals with our rabies shot numbers at their shop and suggest that this is a very fine idea for all of our friends. It lets everyone know not only who you are and where you belong but that you are safe to give a random pat. We do like the latter.

This is important at this time of the year especially when all of our young masters and mistresses are starting back to school and we often accompany them and mingle with the other children.

Anyone know where there is a wire-haired fox terrier available? There is a very lovable family he or she might like to adopt. No children. Let us know.

When do you suppose there will be a zoo on the Monterey Peninsula? Wouldn't it be nice near Dennis the Menace Park? What do you think?

2 Free Plays Sunday Afternoon At Circle Theatre

Two modern viewpoints on the subject of change will be explored in one-act plays to be offered this week end at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. A special matinee performance has been scheduled on Sunday at 2:30 for Howard Nemerov's "Cain," followed by Eugene Ionesco's "Victims of Duty."

The productions are the work of students in the summer workshop sponsored at the Circle by Fresno State College. The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, co-sponsor of the summer session, is inviting the public free of charge to the two performances.

Larry Wismer has directed the plays, and the casts include Jackie Burke, Victoria McCallum, Charles Osborne, Harry Leisk, Terry Poland and Jared Mays.

They will appear for a "Go-Party," the Republican Party's "painless politics," fund-raising campaign.

To appear are such celebrities as Jane Powell, Frankie Avalon and the Andrews Sisters with Manny Harmon and his orchestra.

The program is intended for people of all ages of all parties. The "Go-Party," an idea conceived by former star George Murphy, promises to provide fun for everyone.

There will be no political speeches nor political action of any kind. The "Go-Party" is replacing the traditional $100-a-plate dinner which political parties held for fund-raising purposes in years past. Gone with the long-winded speeches are the cold roast beef and the cold potatoes and the melting ice cream. Instead, there will be 2½ hours of excellent entertainment by some of the best in the business.

Producer Murphy and his all-star troupe will make their one-night stand in Monterey as part of a swing through northern California.

Similar parties, all featuring big names of show business, were staged with success last year in St. Louis, Kansas City, Boston and many other places.

Heavy attendance is being sought from all sections of the Tri-County Area as Republican leaders have stressed the "Go-Party" will afford a rare opportunity for residents to see these excellent performers in person.

Dae Yung

Peter R. Dyers Adopt Korean Boy

For many years interested in the fate of destitute Korean children, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dyer became the financial foster parents of Kim Kyung Pa in 1957 when Kim Kyung was a tiny girl of 12 years. Through the years of correspondence the Dyers came to know their young foster daughter and were regretful when they were informed by PLAN, the adoption agency, that at the age of eighteen Kim Kyung would be 'on her own'. There were letters exchanged and recently, Dae Yung, eight years old, was financially adopted by the Dyers.

Dae Yung's tragic baby-hood is reflected in his small face. He was born in Pyungtaek, Kunggido to happy parents. But trouble came when the young father, a vegetable peddler, fell ill with cancer and died in 1959. The mother struggled along doing odd jobs, but in May of 1961, insufficient nourishment and hard labor won over courage and Dae Yung's mother died of a heart attack. He was taken to the Sunduck Orphanage, a private institution where the Dyer's contribution to his upkeep will afford him opportunity for schooling and comforts the little boy sorely needs.

"We are looking forward to Dae's first letter, "Mrs. Dyer told The Pine Cone," and we hope to see him grow up happy as our former foster child, Kim Kyung."

County Tax Ratio Set At 25.8%

The average relationship of county-assessed values to full cash values of taxable property throughout the state is 23.1 per cent this year, a decrease of seven-tenths of a percentage point from last year's average, according to figures released this week by George R. Reilly, First District Member of the State Board of Equalization.

This statewide average reflects county ratios ranging from less than 19 percent to a little over 27 percent, Reilly stated. Monterey County's ratio is 25.8 per cent.

The law directs the State Board of Equalization to find and publish the ratio of assessed to full cash value for each county annually. This ratio is then used by the State Department of Education in the apportionment of state aid to school districts and by the State Controller to compute repayments of state loans for school building construction.

Youth Center Fund Appeal

tional help is needed from the citizens of Carmel and the adjacent areas. The Crosby Youth Fund is reserved for capital outlay."

"In the good old days, when the Center was young," said Mrs. Hicks, "parents and all citizens interested in youth, visited the Center in droves. We loved having them, we still do!" The Center is open to all, Tuesday through Thursday, 3:30 to 5:30 afternoons and evenings, 7:00 to 10:30. Friday and Saturdays: 2:30 to 5 o'clock and evening 8:00 to 11:30 o'clock. The Snack Bar is always in full swing, there are the hobby and T.V. Rooms and the young members are beginning right now to talk about the great Christmas Show, the major entertainment (and fund-raising) event of the year.

Friday, Sept. 6 is scheduled as the red letter Open House Day of this year's annual appeal and all Carmel citizens and their friends and visitors are invited from 7:30 p.m. onward. There will be dancing to the tunes of the 8-piece Tenor Tones Band who through the A.F. of M. (Musicians Union) are donating their services.

Among the greeters at the party will be outstanding Carmel citizens who have given unstintingly, their time and efforts to the development of the Center, Mayor Eben Whittlesley and P. A. McCreery head the list including Messrs. J. O. Handley, Fred Godwin, James C. Buffington, George president of the Board. A special tribute of remembrance will be paid the late John Chitwood, Carmel's Mayor and all-time friend of the city's boys and girls.

Acting as hosts and hostesses for Open House will be members of the Youth Council Board, Nancy Baxter, president; Susan Baldwin, vice-president; Pamela Baldwin, secretary. Clayton Hilbert, treasurer; Betsy Baxter, historian; Charles Davis, Sgt. at Arms and James Markowitz, Sgt. at Arms.

Floor Length Formal in Renaissance Tapestry a Footlights and Fancy Exclusive

Provocative is the New Fall Fashion Word

"Light up your Knight" is the fashion theme for Fall, '63," Dorothy Dean Stevens, ballet dancer turned fashion expert, tells us. In her unique shop "Footlights and Fancy" on Dolores and Fifth, Dorothy gave her views from her angle as originator of the Civic Ballet, producer of spectaculars and teacher of dancing.

"Just prior to opening this salon," she told, "I was in Europe and as a guest of Christian Dior I acted as interpreter for the late Mademoiselle Lucky, Europe's most famous model. Her poise plus her completely feminine and romantic approach to fashion were an inspiration that extends in my buying today.

"Whether it is nine o'clock in the morning or nine at night, dress to be the leading lady—to hold the spot light—at home or in public. And, this Fall is your wonderful chance. Renaissance opulence is the keynote. Velvets, brocades, tapestries in brilliant stained glass colors. Provocative, the new massive jewelry, the cavalier doublets (long tunics and overblouses) the pageboy pants.

"Of course one can't go to a sports event or to town in Lady Macbeth scarlet or jealousy green. But there are terrific new Herald Square plaids and checks, brown and black or moss green and vanilla ensembles in superbly tailored wools and mohairs. Go elegant and you will win roars of applause this Fall."

ALCHEMY

Under the savage sun, the desert plants probing the fevered sands for hidden wells, burst with the colorful exuberance of ocotillo's tasseled carrousels.
For trees, the slanted leaf and twisted root:
for cacti, roweled walls that con contract
when water tables drop and thus confute the sun — even a cinder years impact; — for still saguaro dons its filmy crown, so inconsistent, strange for robust king;
each cholla, needle sharp, wears yellow gown, ephemeral as bird on autumn wing.

Here is a master plan for human life:
adapt and bring forth flowers of peace, not strife.

— MAREL M. HEINSON
Berkeley, Calif.

SUMMER IN CARMEL

Carmel in summer! To the world immune,
Like god and goddess 'neath the pines we stood,
Our hearts keyed only to a faun's fey tune,
And fashioned dreams unscourged by rod and rood;
But then the little worms of doubt crept in
And every valiant vow and scheme devoured;
In mystic goblet all too rare and thin
The wine of love untasted, staled and soured.
Along the sea on drowsy afternoon
No more the evanescent pipes are heard;
But from the trembling heart of drab cocoon,
By slow awakening to new life bestirred,
Will issue all our old dreams one by one,
Gay butterflies a-flutter in the sun!

— MARY SHEPHERD MAPA
Salinas, Calif.

TO CECELIA — A GIFTED CHILD

A great saint and great woman bore your name.
A heritage to many — but a few
Are called and fewer chosen to proclaim
Its simple sweetness — such a child are you.

Poets, composers follow in the press
Of clerics that made your name a pilot-star
To Christendom. Sound its full loveliness
Of tone and chime that no false note can mar.

And keep that morning luster in your eyes.
And trust in life for it is manifold.
Explore the unknown, the wonderful — be wise.
Accept the new, and recreate the old.

As child and woman may you always keep Beauty maturing from pale rose to deep.

—PHOEBE W. HOFFMAN

LOGICIAN VERSUS POET

"I found a gem
in the heart of a stone."
I said:
"Stones have no heart,"
the logician replied,
shaking his head.
If this be argument,
then I have won;
for by his remark
he proved that he had none.

— FRANK ANKENBRAND, JR.

Art and Literature

REVIEWED BY HARRY WELLESLEY FLETCHER

Poetry is not necessarily for the birds
Because . . . only Man can eat his words
—AUTHOR UNKNOWN.

With the resumption of our poetry column in response to a more or less clamorous demand, it may be fitting to state here something of our policy as reflected in our selection of contributions submitted.

Because the authors of these lines receive no reward beyond publication herein, it might appear that we are violating the rules governing what is becoming known as "modern poetry."

To be acceptable for publication in The Pine Cone, poetry need not be meaningless, nor obtuse. Furthermore, it is not necessary for it to be avant-garde. Being somewhat over the border himself, this editor appreciates best that which may also give joy to others, and more, especially those expressions of beauty which others may take unto themselves.

County Fair Art

Art exhibits at county fairs have one thing in common. Nobody agrees with the decisions of the judges. Except, perhaps, the recipients of the ribbons.

I like to mingle with the crowds of viewers, and it delights my soul to hear, repeatedly, "Good Heavens, they gave first prize to THAT!" Or to overhear some brash youth remark, "I could do better than that with a shotgun!"

Of one thing I am certain. I would never enter a painting of mine in a county fair exhibit. The reason for this is that I probably have no conception of what is Art as against what is good form, good composition, and soul satisfying.

The pictures I liked at last week's Monterey County Fair, generally were not favorites of the judges. There was a small painting by F. D. Grundy, entitled "Moonlight," which is the kind of thing I could live with, enjoyably. Also in this category was No. 35 in the "Professional" division, a painting of mother and child by Ethlyn Crouch, titled "At The Window."

I also liked "Yrzaina Landscape," an amateur entry by Nicolas Nessin. And an excellent seascape, "Storm Brewing," by Lee Brooks. However, none of my selections got even honorable mention. I have often asked, "Why are you so stingy with your Honorable Mention ribbons?" And why there couldn't be fourth and fifth place ribbons. And, furthermore, why couldn't we get judges from "out of town," to whom names have no significance?

Thanks to the intrepid ranks of genius and near-genius, the county fairs will continue to afford us the pleasure of viewing their work and aspirations, let the ribbons fall where they may. Except that the unofficial grand sweepstakes ribbon (which does not exist) is hereby awarded to Jesse Corsaut for the third dimensional "Pink Slippers," the outstanding attraction of the show.

"Theatre in the Twentieth Century"

Edited by Robert W. Corrigan and published by Grove Press, this anthology (Theatre in the Twentieth Century) not only offers a guide to the complexities of the modern theatre, but makes interesting reading for all enthusiastic playgoers.

Among the 20 contributors are Eugene Ionesco, Christopher Fry, Arthur Miller, Jean-Paul Sartre, Henry Adler, Friedrich Duerrenmatt and others of equal prominence.

Arthur Miller's "The Playwright and the Atomic World" should be read by every American. In concluding his probing treatise, Miller says, "I believe that the world has now arrived, not at a moment of decision, but two minutes later. We have or ought to have but one interest, if only for safety's sake, and it is to preserve the rights of man . . . When we come to address ourselves to this vessel of eternal unrest and eternal hope, we shall once again be on our way."

Friedrich Duerrenmatt says, "To talk about problems of the theatre is to enter into competition with literary scholarship."

Martin Esslin writes in "The Theatre of the Absurd" . . . "plays . . . have been performed with astonishing success (which) is all the more puzzling when one considers that the audiences concerned were amused and applauded these plays fully aware that they could not understand what they meant or what their authors were driving at."

Summer and Smoke To Open Sept. 6

The Golden Bough Circle Theatre will follow its current French farce, "Let's Get a Divorce", with a poetic drama of the American South. Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke", last seen here in 1957, it will open Sept. 6 for a seven-week run.

"Summer and Smoke", set in Glorious Hill, Mississippi, a half century ago, deals with a delicate girl and a headstrong young doctor whose lives are continually crossing each other's orbit, almost touching, but moving in opposite directions. It is considered one of Williams' most hauntingly beautiful works.

The play will be presented in-the-round, as it was in its first production in Dallas, Texas, more than 15 years ago. Transferred to Broadway, it suffered from a damaging production, and had to wait for another arena presentation, at New York's Circle-in-the-Square, before its true qualities were recognized. Geraldine Page rose to stardom in the off-Broadway version, and has since played another of Williams' great female roles in "Sweet Bird of Youth".

Larry Wismer, guest director at the Circle for the summer months, will complete his local stint with the opening of "Summer and Smoke", for which he has provided scenery and costumes as well as direction.

Conductor Bernstein Much-Honored Musician

Conductor Leonard Bernstein, who will lead the 106-man New York Philharmonic in its concert at the Monterey County Fairgrounds on Saturday, Aug. 31, has often been termed "America's most decorated man of music."

At the age of 44 (he will celebrate his 45th birthday on Aug. 25), Mr. Bernstein's walls are hung with dozens of different plaques, testimonials, medals and citations. Indeed, the variety and number of honors bestowed upon Mr. Bernstein as conductor, composer, author, musical ambassador and even television personality are ample reason why Time Magazine has seen fit to comment: "His versatility reminds his more enthusiastic admirers of the Renaissance Man. In an age of specialization, he refuses to stay put in any cultural pigeonhole."

As a serious composer, Mr. Bernstein received the New York Music Critics Award in 1944 for his "Jeremiah" Symphony, while as a composer for the musical stage, he shared in "West Side Story's" many Broadway and motion picture honors. During his tenure as Conductor and Music Director of the Philharmonic, he and the orchestra have received four "Emmys" (television's Oscars), as well as a Peabody Award for their series over the CBS network, while Mr. Bernstein has also won two "Emmys" for himself.

Three Carmel Students Admitted to UC, Davis

Three Carmel students have been admitted to the University of California, Davis, for the fall semester, announced Registrar Elmer Wagner.

The fall 1963 enrollment is expected to be nearly 4,800 in the College of Agriculture, College of Letters and Science, College of Engineering, School of Veterinary Medicine, and the Graduate Division. This is a 17 per cent increase over the previous year, said Wagner.

Elementary Schools Set Registration Sept. 3 - 6

Elementary schools in the Carmel Unified School District will accept registration of students new to the District the week of Sept. 3-6, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the various school offices.

Parents of new students in the Upper Carmel Valley, grades K-6, will register at Tularcitos School, 35 Ford Road. Lower Carmel Valley residents will register at Carmelo School, Valley Road and Shulte Lane. New residents in the Carmel Woods area with children in grades K-4 will register at Woods School, Dolores and Vista Streets, Carmel.

New residents in the River area, Pebble Beach, Carmel Meadows, Carmel Knolls, Rancho Rio Vista and Carmel Highlands in grades K-4 will register at River School, Monte Verde and 15th Streets. All new fifth and sixth graders in Pebble Beach, Highlands and town area are to be registered at Sunset School, San Carlos and 9th streets, in Carmel.

For kindergarteners, verification of birth will be necessary. For others a report card or transfer is desirable. Parents need not bring students for registration.

Supervisor Tom Hudson announces that the Monterey County Road Department has completed the resurfacing of Palo Colorado Road from State No. 1 to a point two miles southeast.

The project consisted of placing a two inch thick oil mix blanket sixteen feet wide.

Crocker-Anglo Pays 35-cent Dividend

The board of directors of Crocker-Anglo National Bank on Aug. 20, declared a dividend of 35c per share on the bank's capital stock, it was announced by Chairman of the Board Paul E. Hoover.

The dividend is for the three months' period beginning July 1, 1963, and ending Sept. 30, 1963, and is payable Oct. 15, 1963, to shareholders of record as of Sept. 25, 1963.

MPC Announces Registration Plan

A new registration procedure similar to that employed at four-year colleges has been inaugurated at Monterey Peninsula College, Dean of Students Marjorie Marshall announced last week.

In the past, according to Mrs. Marshall, incoming students depended entirely upon counselors to work out their programs and class time schedules during a pre-registration period.

After consulting with counselors about their fall semester classes, students have now been asked to work out their own class time schedules. At assigned hours on Sept. 5 or 6, they will come to the campus for actual registration. At that time, class cards will be assigned to students after a trial check of program by major advisers.

"This more nearly equates with registration procedures at four-year colleges," Mrs. Marshall said. "By telescoping the one big operation into two days, we hope to be able to cope with the larger numbers of students coming in now and expected to come in the future."

Mrs. Marshall also pointed out that students should be aware that two fees are payable at the time of final registration: a $15 student body membership fee and a $1.50 health fee.

She also emphasized that students should come armed, on Sept. 5 and 6, with both pen and pencil.

Complete registration information, she said, may be obtained at the MPC counseling desk in the administration building.

MPC Evening Class List Announced

Monterey Peninsula College's evening division will offer 106 tuition-free lower division courses beginning Sept. 16.

Prospective students may obtain a copy of the schedule at the campus's administration building.

English placement examinations will be given Sept. 4 at 7 p.m. in room L-10. The examination is required for admission to English courses and also to Business 85, Drama 15A, History 4A and 17AB, Philosophy 6AB, 12, 22, 23, Psychology 1A, Political Science 1, Sociology 1 and Speech 2A.

Four courses will be offered at Fort Ord and information about these is available at the Fort Ord Education Center.

Also offered at MPC this fall are 10 upper division courses by San Jose State College and two by the University of California at Berkeley.

San Jose State Offers Evening Courses

San Jose State College will offer more than 75 extension courses in Santa Clara, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito Counties during the fall semester beginning in mid-September. Classes will meet weekly from 7 to 10 p.m. in public schools in the five-county area. Fees will be charged.

Although most of the courses are in the field of education, the range of subjects includes art, philosophy, mathematics, Spanish, French, psychology, civil liberties, coaching problems in baseball, the Soviet Union, Russian literature and Indians of California.

Special announcements with respect to the fall semester extension courses, giving locations and times, will be made shortly by the SJSC Extension Services.

Road Work Slated For Highway 1

Installation of a 36-inch reinforced concrete culvert and drainage improvements on State Sign Route 1, approximately five miles north of Big Sur, will begin soon as the Division of Highways began advertising the project for bids this week. Bids will be opened Oct. 2 in Sacramento.

Work will consist of slope repairs and the replacing of two small badly deteriorated drainage pipes with a modern drainage structure which will afford maximum protection to the existing highway during peak rain storms.

Approximately $25,800 in State Highway funds is available for the project which is expected to be completed early in 1964.

TUB-THUMPING

Senator Clair Engle is co-sponsor of legislation proposed by President Kennedy to abolish over the next five years the U.S. immigration system based on national origins.

The new immigration system Senator Engle supports would give:

—First priority to persons of useful skills and attainments, such as engineers, doctors, teachers and scientists.

—Second priority to persons whose immigration would reunite a family.

Government officials estimate that under these priorities relatives of persons already living in the U.S. would constitute more than half the annual total immigration.

Senator Engle explained that the new system would provide an annual immigration of 165,000 persons. In 1962, potential U.S. immigration total was 157,000 persons. However, of that total, 68,000 immigration places went unfilled —many because of national origin restrictions.

The national origin quotas, in effect since 1924, would be reduced by 20 percent in each of the five years until they disappeared, Senator Engle said.

He said the country most affected by this bill would be Italy. Government officials estimate that Italian immigration would rise from the present annual quota of 5500 to an average of more than 16,000 in each of the five years that would follow enactment of the proposal.

The proposal also would eliminate racial-origin restrictions against persons of Asian descent. A provision of the current laws restricts immigration of persons of Asian descent on the basis of racial origin, rather than country of birth.

The legislation embodies a proviso that no one country receive more than 10 percent of the quota numbers authorized in a single year.

Carmel Little League Champs Honored

Twenty three local Little League players were hosted at a luncheon last Monday, 26th, held at the Carmel Valley Inn. An hour of swimming preceded a hamburger and chocolate sundae repast, was followed by the awarding of trophies. A winner's cup, presented by Donald C. Smith on behalf of the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, was received by P. A. McCreery, the Carmel Little League's sponsor. Compensation prizes in the form of new baseballs were presented to the Hacienda Red Sox team members of Carmel Valley by the Carmel Little League. In addition, each member of the winning P.A. Mac's team received an individual cup, the gift of Carmel Rancho.

Hosting the luncheon were Hacienda Carmel (sponsors of the Red Sox) and the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

Also attending the luncheon were the men who have devoted their services to managing and coaching the teams during the past season: coaches William Conland and Robert Updike for the Hacienda Red Sox of the Carmel Valley; manager Henry F. Meyer and coach Lee McGuckin for the Carmel team.

NOW IS THE TIME to enjoy a sunny location and a view of Point Lobos from this nearly-new home that represents these sought-after assets: two bedrooms, two attractive baths, a diningroom, kitchen with built-in units, livingroom with wall-to-wall carpeting and an established garden with minimum-care shrubs.

BASIC GOOD DESIGN AND CARMEL CHARM are evidenced in every inch of this choice residence. Everything has been done (by Comstock Associates) to achieve perfect condition. Three bedrooms, three baths, a den, diningroom, equipped kitchen, attached 2-car garage and unusually pleasing livingroom with beamed ceiling, random-width oak floors, and many hand-crafted details. This listing is ONE OF THE BEST ON TODAY'S MARKET!

IDEAL MODERN HOME for a family or a retired couple. Situated in an area of new and comparable homes, with a delightful view of the hills, this ranchtype residence has a LEVEL site. Three bedrooms, a family-diningroom, a kitchen with beautiful cabinetry and built-ins, and a completely-fenced garden for outdoor living.

MELLOW EARLY CALIFORNIA ATMOSPHERE pervades this fine home. Its weathered ceiling beams, brought from an old Coastline building, are part of the old-world feeling that makes this a "special" property. Two bedrooms, two baths, sunny garden patio, and very pleasing exterior.

NEW LISTING! Cheerful cottage charm is the keynote for this two-bedroom home. Featuring an Early-American kitchen with modern equipment (yellow built-in units, new cabinets and sink & floor covering) and providing a real dining-area, this property should appeal to the buyer who will enjoy both deck and patio living, central heating, and a tiled bath. Extra storage room in addition to garage. An excellent value at $26,750. EXCLUSIVE LISTING.

Drawn-Out Case Settled At Last By City Planners

The Carmel City Planning Commission yesterday brought to a close a long and extremely complicated series of negotiations with the Shell Oil Company, dealing with a service station which is to be built on the southeast corner of Fifth and San Carlos. The original action, according to a spokesman for the company, was begun on July 2, 1962.

Yesterday's action was to call for the issuance of a building permit for a parking lot adjacent to the station. The station's permit had already been granted. At issue was the board's policy of not granting a permit for a parking lot next to a service station. This lot, with a capacity of but nine cars, was granted due to the extreme measures the oil firm was willing to take to make the property scenic. Members of the board contacted by the PINE CONE had nothing but compliments for the way the applicant demonstrated a thorough willingness to cooperate with the requests of the board all through the months of the drawn-out procedures.

The board also asked the city attorney's office to draw up a resolution calling for the issuance of a building permit for the proposal of the Carmel Presbyterian Church. A lengthy discussion was held concerning the permitting of 500 square feet more than the design review committee had recommended, but this too was granted.

In other actions the board:

Passed Resolution 587, revising setback requirements to include all types of multiple dwellings.

Granted a request by Mrs. Paul Flanders for a revision of the access to her property from Mountain View, a matter which was apparently omitted in oversight when the city accepted certain properties from Mrs. Flanders.

Resolved that the city council be asked to permit Contractor Jack Miller to construct his proposed Mission Terrace court at Mission and Eighth.

Called for the issuance of a building permit allowing Carmel Galleries to remodel their store windows.

Permitted a variation in the planting requirements and granted a building permit for a court to be built by Tanya Treutle on the east side of Lincoln between Ocean and Seventh.

Approved a mixed bag of oversidewalk signs, but denied the black outlining of letters and the addition of "No. 3" on a sign for Vital Food Store.

And, finally, approved the proposed floodlights for the Shell Oil station.

MPVS Coffee Set At Monterey USO

The next general meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services will be on Sept. 6 at the USO in Monterey. Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. and the business meeting will begin at 10:30.

With the need for merchandise in mind for the Flea Market, which will be held on Oct. 9, members are urged to clean out their own closets and collect from their neighbors.

As recently as 8,000 years ago, the horse, elephant and camel families roamed all continents but Australia and Antarctica.

18 Year Record Intact; Pedestrian Improving

Happily, Carmel's 18-year record of not one pedestrian fatality remains unblemished. It was, according to police department and hospital reports, a close call when last Monday morning, Mrs. Ransom Rideout of Santa Cruz lost control of her car on Carmel Hill. Plunging down Ocean Avenue, the brakes apparently useless, the Rideout car hit a car near Mission, careened over a pedestrian, Mrs. Margaret Toi of Pacific Grove, and then crashed head-on into the monument at San Carlos. The driver of the demolished car and her passenger and Mrs. Toi were all taken to Community Hospital in the Red Cross Ambulance operated by Carmel firemen. Latest reports from the hospital indicate the assured recovery of Mrs. Toi who suffered multiple fractures and of Mrs. Rideout, the driver of the ill fated car, who suffered facial and chest injuries and who has returned to her home. Mrs. Sue Rideout of Monterey, riding with her mother-in-law, was dismissed from the hospital following examination.

$3,000 Bequest Given Community Hospital

A bequest of $3,000 to the Community Hospital Building Fund from the late Gerald Keith was gratefully acknowledged this week by Vernon F. Hurd, president of the Board of Trustees of Community Hospital.

Mr. Keith died at the age of 70 following a heart attack while playing golf on July 18. He had been a resident of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club since retiring from service with the U.S. State Department in 1953.

His bequest to the hospital was just announced at the probate hearing of his will.

A graduate of Amherst College, he held embassy and consular posts in Spain, Switzerland, Colombia, Poland, England and Turkey.

He was a member of the Community Hospital Building Fund Committee, a director of the Monterey Institute for Foreign Studies, a director of the Carmel Foundation and past president of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest.

He is survived by his widow, the former Helen Woodward, and a brother, Roger Keith.

School Board

Authorized the addition of a part-time teacher at the junior high school.

Approved the expenditure, after some discussion, of $26,000 for additional equipment at the junior high school.

Accepted with regret the resignations of teachers Bowman Sturtevant, Joan Hampton, Sheila Waage and Karen Steinke Reed.

Hired four teachers to replace the above.

Authorized the superintendent to make such teacher training agreements as he sees fit.

Approved disposal of six outdated textbooks, totaling 268 copies and a variety of topics.

A brief discussion of the recreation program closed the meeting just after 10 p.m.

More than 17 billion feet of timber were blown down in California, Oregon and Washington by the great storm of Oct. 12, 1962.

Camilla Doe To Teach in Taipei

An exciting climax to her two-month voyage in the Orient came in a letter from Camilla Doe to her parents, Major General A. Jens Doe and Mrs. Doe. "I have been invited to teach art in the American School in Taipei" writes Camilla, one of Carmel's most popular and beautiful young women.

An "army brat" Camilla has lived in far parts of the world since her infancy. Her current trip, on her own, has taken her to Japan, Hong Kong, Siam, Okinawa, where she visited U.S. Army friends, the Malay Peninsula and Singapore where she was the guest of British Army friends. "The General and I spent five and a half years in China," said Mrs. Doe, "and we are most happy about Camilla's appointment." An accomplished linguist and artist, Camilla Doe's new duties place her high on the roll of Carmel's young ambassadors of good will abroad.

Where There's Life...

By Andre Hope

If you would really like to contemplate "Life as she is lived," you should volunteer to baby sit one of the exhibits at the county fair. My beat this year was the professional art show. It was highly popular and the voting for the public's favorite picture was spirited. Sitting behind the ballot box, one hears some of the most interesting comments. For instance: man to wife "Which one did I like, dear?" One gentle lady leaned over and whispered to me, "I'd like to vote for number blank. Would it be all right even if I don't know what it's supposed to mean?" Some of the children were so small they had a little trouble making their numbers on the ballot just right, but they knew what they liked.

A mother tried to tell her son how to vote. He didn't like the picture, wanted no part of it. Finally in exasperation she told him to choose his own. He did—the wildest abstract in the place. Children love art and take it very seriously. They consider each and every picture; art judges in jumpers. When a rather avant garde couple tried to decide what the artist meant by a certain painting, their daughter disgustedly explained it to them. It was a turtle taking a bubble bath in a leaky umbrella, THAT'S what it was! A fine sculpture of slender wood threads was described as what happens to shredded wheat when you turn a fan on it; a collage looked like, "The seat of mold pants mom keeps patching." Clancy Bate's moody birds over a murky sea, "Look at all those gulls, must be some fish in there somewhere." Mabel Landaker's lovely Alice with a suggestion of a carrousel horse in the background, "Boy, that kid looks like she's been waitin' a long time to get on the merry-go-round." Les Emery's "Ebb Tide", depicting a peasant woman in that stage of her life, drew thoughtful elderly admirers. Peg Murray's delightful girl with kooky animal was the focal point for teen age girls.

That's a step in the right direction. Nice to know they would prefer something on their walls other than the latest movie hero like Rock Bottom or Riff Raff. A gal who closely resembled an Afghan Hound in stretch pants stared intently at a heavy sculpture of iron and wood, finally deciding it would make a "Delicious what-not". One of the most interesting aspects of the afternoon were the ranchers from the horse show in full western gear pushing strollers filled with miniscule versions of themselves in full western gear.

Later as I crossed the grounds there was an apprentice demon creeping up behind the man on stilts with swinging cane in hand. Just at the moment of truth he restrained himself and addressed his buddy, "I'm even not that mean!" Progressing to the craft building I find my collage had been hung sideways. In the first place it looked better that way, considering I didn't know what I was doing in the second place. As a matter of fact in the process of making it, I inadvertently sat down on it, somewhat crumpling one edge. "Gives it texture", said the friend who was watching me. That's life in the Serendipitic Sixties.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

When the children and teachers of the Captain Cooper Elementary School, Big Sur, return to their classrooms, Sept. 10, they will note a number of improvements and additions surrounding their beautiful new school building which they occupied for the first time early this year

Since annexation of the Captain Cooper School District by the Carmel Unified School District, July 1, the entire playground area has been re-worked, a chain link fence installed about the play field and much-needed and much-to-be-appreciated playground equipment provided.

New to the teaching staff at the Captain Cooper School, teaching intermediate grades, will be Mr. George Selvig, formerly of Tularcitos Elementary School, Carmel Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Selvig and their two sons, Direk and Conrad, long time residents of Carmel Valley, will live in Big Sur during the school year.

A giant bird 10 to 12 feet high (a phoenix) carved from a great redwood burl, is the work of Edmund Kara of Big Sur. For more than three months, this artist has carefully, patiently, been sculpting the treasured wood which he found deep within the Santa Lucia Mountains. Now as he completes his work, this unusual, handsome piece of wood sculpture may be seen in the garden of his home, on Highway One, mid-way between Coastlands and Nepenthe. To complete the work, bronze feet and legs, fashioned by Ron Mineo, sculptor and artists of West Hollywood, are now being put in place.

Using his highly specialized Oxy-acetylene technique, Mr. Mineo has worked in close harmony with artist Kara in producing a piece of art that is arresting the attention of residents of Big Sur and countless visitors to the area during these closing days of summer.

Before coming to Big Sur, Mr. Kara was a clothing designer in Hollywood studios and created high fashion costumes for wholesale manufacturers.

Mr. Mineo, with his wife Pola, and little son Christo, spend as much time as they can in Big Sur but home and studio is on Doheny Drive, West Hollywood. Ron Mineo has been commissioned to do work for commercial and residential clients in the Los Angeles, Palm Springs, La Quinta areas. He, like Mr. Kara, is a realist and among his "life-like" works are a giant sunflower, six feet tall, a prickly pear, a yucca that towers eight feet, sea gulls, curlees, grasshoppers. Most of these particular pieces are in gardens of spacious desert homes.

Bubbles, a diminutive Shetland pony colt, is the latest arrival at the Pfeiffer Riding Academy, Big Sur. Bubbles has handsome markings of brick red and white (shaped like bubbles) and is lovable, affectionate and gentle. Mrs. John Pfeiffer, who owns and operates the academy during the summer months, can hold Bubbles in her arms, like one would hold a dog or other pet. The academy, which is in its second summer of operation on Highway One, opposite River Village, will close after the Labor Day weekend.

stein-New York Philharmonic Concert August 31st at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, 3000 Special Grounds Admissions tickets at $1.50 each will go on sale the day of the concert at the Fairgrounds box office. These tickets entitle the bearer to bring his own seat or sit on the grass to hear the concert anywhere on the spacious grounds outside the arena. Grounds Admissions have been used for many years at the world famous Tanglewood Music Festival, and as many as eight thousand people have gathered on the grounds for a concert. Though the orchestra will be easily heard, they will not be in full view from Ground Admissions locations. Patrons are requested to come early to avoid parking difficulties.
